TRADE AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE ATHENS
AND WARSAW CHAMBERS OF COMMERCE

[Comment: The following information gives details about the trade between Greece and Poland, as well as lists of goods exchanged and the names and addresses of Polish import and export organizations involved.]

Following the announcement that a trade agreement was signed between the Chamber of Commerce of Athens and the Chamber of Commerce of Warsaw on 22 October 1952, many meetings took place in the Athens Chamber of Commerce, as well as at the Ministry of Trade, to find the most appropriate way of executing this agreement in its entirety and in the shortest possible time.

The following persons participated at the meetings which took place in the Athens Chamber of Commerce: K. Konstantinou, president; D. Golemis, vice-president; A. Varvagiannis, general director; and St. Katsoulis, director of trade, all representing the Athens Chamber of Commerce. Also participating were P. Lozos, vice-president of the Piraeus Chamber of Industry and Commerce; N. Kostantinidis and Skouteropoulos, counselors to the Piraeus Chamber of Industry and Commerce; G. Papadimitrakopoulos and H. Toulaitos, president and vice-president, respectively, of the Panhellenic Association of Exporters; G. Alamanis, president of the Tobacco Trade Federation of Greece; and A. Bardas, representing the Association of Greek Manufacturers. At the meetings which took place at the Ministry of Trade, under the chairmanship of I. Paraskevopoulos, the former Minister of Trade, A. Triantafyllis, General Director, and I. Ioannou, Director of the ministry, participated, in addition to the persons mentioned above.

On 7 November 1952, the Athens Chamber of Commerce submitted a note to the Ministry of Trade proposing that a special committee be formed to follow up the execution of this agreement.

The note proposed that the committee be composed of the presidents, or their alternates, of the Athens and Piraeus Chambers of Industry and Commerce, the Panhellenic Association of Exporters, the Tobacco Trade Federation, the Association of Greek Manufacturers, the General Director of Trade, and his alternate from the Ministry of Trade.

Texts of the trade agreement were sent to the rest of the Chambers of Commerce and Industry of Greece, the Panhellenic Association of Exporters, the Tobacco Trade Federation of Greece, the Association of Greek Manufacturers, the Union of Trade Associations of Greece, the Trade Associations of Athens, Piraeus, and Salonica, and the Associations of Trade Representatives of these latter cities.

On 26 November 1952, Th. Kapsalis, Minister of Trade, in a note to the Athens Chamber of Commerce and Industry said that he agreed that a special committee should be set up to help carry out the trade agreement. He said that he was appointing Ioannis Ioannou, alternate General Director of the Ministry of Trade, as representative to the special committee and Efth. Anagnostopoulos, commercial advisor of the ministry, as his alternate.

The following tables give data on products to be exchanged between the two countries, as well as the lists of Polish import and export companies participating in the agreement:
